Scope of Work:

Blurbs are short (50-250 word) reviews of an album. Writer may also write “guides,” an article of between 1000 and 2000 words including between 10 and 20 blurbs, and “collections,” a list of albums, including a topic and a short description and blurbs for at least two of the albums on the list. Guides and lists must be approved beforehand.

Rights:

Writer grants Publisher a perpetual worldwide license to reproduce, modify, distribute, publicly perform, and publicly display blurbs, guides, and collections (“work”) for both internet and print use. Included in the display rights outlined above is the right to electronically archive the work for retrieval by users of Shfl in perpetuity. These reproductive rights are transferable, e.g. if Shfl changes ownership or changes structure in any way the entity that operates Shfl will retain the right to reproduce the writing. Copyright will be retained by Writer, and Writer shall retain the right to reproduce and re-sell the work elsewhere to any market or medium, including, without limitation, television, film, video, print and audio, alone or as part of a larger work.

Dispute Resolution:

The parties will attempt to resolve any dispute out of or relating to this Agreement through friendly negotiations amongst the Parties. If the matter is not resolved by negotiation, the parties will resolve the dispute using the below Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) procedure. Any controversies or disputes arising out of or relating to this Agreement will be submitted to mediation in accordance with any statutory rules of mediation. If mediation is not successful in resolving the entire dispute or is unavailable, any outstanding issues will be submitted to final and binding arbitration under the rules of the American Arbitration Association. The arbitrator’s award will be final, and judgment may be entered upon it by any court having proper jurisdiction. This Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of California.
